DOVER

A Perfect English Type

Cut according to the latest English lines, but in no way offending Good Taste, our "Dover" is a practically perfect suit for young men.

The top button may be open or closed as one chooses.

The chalk lines and gun checks of this season's Fabrics are shown to the greatest advantage in this model.

TEST OF NEW INVENTION

Mackay Companies Experiment Further With Gott's Discovery.

It's one thing to import Scotch and English woollens.

Quite another, to import the finest and have their patterns absolutely confined.

Very few, for that matter, can claim exclusiveness of pattern for all their domestic fabrics.

Yet we do—and in spite of our exclusiveness, in spite of our quality, charge only our regular moderate prices.

And back every Spring suit and overcoat with "your money back if you want it."

We have your number—If you want a long-wearing sock.

No. 31! Black, tan and gray.

ago to do what Mr. Gott recently accomplished, but Mr. Edison's "dot" came out on the tape in a mark twenty-eight feet long. After laughing over this superdot, which he said he thought would never end, Mr. Edison gave up experimenting with Morse code on the cables.

Yesterday Vice-President Ward of the Commercial company showed his visitors some of the tape records made by the Gott system. They were as clear cut as though the force that made them had been exerted through only a few miles of cable instead of having to make itself felt across the Atlantic.

The feature of the Commercial Cable Company's new system which made it possible for McKenna and Hughes to "talk" over land and under sea is a traveling dot or dash and increases the volume of sound into the cheerful click so familiar to everybody.

GIRL MISSIONARY HOME INSANE.

Much Brooding Made Her Mad—Does Not Recognize Father.

Miss Margaret Reynolds, of Waterloo, Ia., who is only 24, returned yesterday on the Italian liner Verona from India, where she had been for two years working as a Presbyterian missionary, with her hair white and her face without a trace of its former girlishness. She became demented in Lahore through brooding upon the unhappy condition of the natives.

McKenzie, of the Lahore Mission, and was met at the pier by her sweetheart, Walter H. Thompson. He was much affected by her changed appearance. She did not recognize him.

Two years ago he urged her to marry, but she told him he would have to wait until she had done her work in India. She will be taken to a sanitarium in Waterloo.

Wife Bases Separation Suit on Pedagogic Suggestion.

Mrs. Grace Lucas of 792 Park place, Brooklyn, says that she lived happily with her husband, Theodore Lucas, for seventeen years until he assumed the attitude of a "hard, uncompromising schoolmaster." She applied to Justice Kelly yesterday for alimony and counsel fees pending the trial of her suit for separation. Decision was reserved.

The defendant is a civil engineer connected with Glenside & Orr of 32 Broadway, Manhattan. The charge of pedagogic severity is based on a letter he is alleged to have written inviting his wife, from whom he was then separated, to share his new country home at Freeport, L. I.

It describes the delightful quietness "so quiet that little Grace can hear again the voice of a conscience that knows the difference between right and wrong." There are threats to have groceries sent by parcel post "so that you the wife will have the handling of no money except your own," and the promise to undertake the task of disciplining her from the far removed standpoint of a teacher. All this, Mrs. Lucas, who refused to share the Freeport home, bringing suit instead. Lucas says that his business was shattered about eighteen months ago when his wife "openly and freely confessed her love for two married men and her delight in their unrestricted intellectual companionship."
